This variety is a new variety that is a longer season sorghum-sudangrass hybrid. This variety is a day length sensitive forage hybrid that is a great summer crop. This hybrid has great drought tolerance because it will wait until it gets a rain, then it will start to grow again. It will not stress, then head out like most conventional forages. It has twice as many leaves as other forages and is capable of growing 10-12' tall with great standability. The small seed size, 24,000 seeds per pound, is also a plus!!
